TWO GREAT NATIONS SHOW HOT TEMPER

PRESS OF GERMANY AND FRANCE IS BITTER.

M. Meline Causes Affront—His Dispatch to Alsace-Lorraine Society Requires Explanation—German Is Aroused Oaer the Excesses Committed.

Berlin, Sept. 3.—It is asserted upon reliable authority that the German government will demand from France an explanation of the dispatch sent by M. Meline, the French premier, in reply to the message of congratulation of the Alsace-Lorraine society upon the signing of the Franco-Russian alliance, in which dispatch M. Meline expressed the hope of a reunion of Alsace-Lorraine with the French republic. Germany, it is announced, also will demand satisfaction for the excesses committed before the German embassy in Paris on the evening of President Faure's return from his visit to Russia.

The anniversary of the battle of Sedan was celebrated here with much less enthusiasm than usual, the evident desire being to divest the anniversary of all elements irritating to France. Still smarting under the completion of the Franco-Russian alliance, most of the leading German papers embrace the opportunity to convey to France a hint that she must abandon any idea of the restoration of Alsace-Lorraine.

The Tagesblatt says that when France shall have learned to accustom herself to this irrevocable fact, the celebration of Sedan day will be superfluous. The democratic organs urge the abolition of what they term a useless celebration.

The evening papers comment severely upon Premier Meline's want of tact in sending a reply to the message of congratulation of the Alsace-Lorraine society upon the signing of the alliance, thus encouraging the members in an act which, from the German view point, involves high treason. It is believed, however, that the incident will be amicably adjusted by its being declared a misunderstanding.

BITTER TOWARD GERMANY.

Attitude of the French Press Is Not Conciliatory.

Paris, Sept. 3.—The attitude of the French press and public toward Germany is distinctly more resolute than it was before the alliance was announced.

Various rumors concerning the government's intentions are in circulation, among others one to the effect that upon the reassembling of the chamber of deputies M. Hanotaux, the minister of foreign affairs, will make an important speech on the subject of the alliance, which will be in the nature of a manifesto and that the chamber will immediately adjourn without transacting any further business.

MAN AND MONEY GONE.

Bank at Durand, Ill., Closed—Forgery and Embezzlement.

Rockford, Ill., Sept. 3.—Charles A. Norton, cashier and general manager of the Bank of Durand, a private concern and the only financial institution in the town, located fifteen miles northwest of Rockford, drove up to his bank Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. When he came out he had on three overcoats with bulging pockets and carried in his hand a grip. Entering his carriage he drove away to the north and has not been seen since. Thursday morning the doors of the bank failed to open at the usual hour and an angry crowd stood about it all day, waaiting for an opportunity to withdraw about $30,000 on deposit. Norton is not only a fugitive but a forger of twenty-seven notes for various amounts, and nothing definite can now be stated of the amount that he will be found short.

Michael Makes an Hour Record.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 3.—Paced by sixteen pacemakers, Jimmy Michael, the Welsh midget cycling wonder, Thursday afternoon set a new mark for the paced American hour record. When Lesna made his record of 30 miles, 1,030 yards, 10 inches at Boston Aug. 14, he was paced by forty men. Michaels used up his sixteen pacemakers fast, and had there been plenty of muscle on hand he would have excelled the world's hour record, held by Stocks of London. As it was, Michael in sixty minutes rode 31 miles, 1,020 yards, beating Lesna's performance something over a mile.

New Idea in Politics.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 3.—The gold Democrats of this city denounced the free-silver plank in the Democratic city platform, expressed disapproval of Thomas Taggart's declarations in favor of free silver, and then resolved to support him for re-election for mayor on the ground that his views on the money question are "not of the slightest importance in this municipal campaign."

Likely to Retain Grain Duties.

Rome, Sept. 3.—The Italian government is quietly watching the movements for and against the suspension of the duties on grain. It is believed the government will not consent to their suspension.

Death of P. P. Armitage.

GO TO FORT WORTH.

National Congress of Farmers Decides to Stand By the Texas City.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 3.—The farmers' national congress Thursday decided by an overwhelming vote to stand by Fort Worth, Tex., as the place for the meeting in 1898. An invitation was extended from Niagara Falls for the congress of 1899 and from Boston for the congress of 1900.

The most important matter of the session came up in a report from the committee on resolutions looking to an amendment of the constitution so as to enlarge the scope of the congress and to tie to it all the various agricultural-educational elements of the country. The report was adopted and the constitution accordingly amended.

President Clayton nominated for vice president of the congress F. L. Maxwell of Louisiana, and he was elected by acclamation. C. A. Wieting of New York was made second vice president.

The committee on resolutions reported against government ownership of railroads, and the report was adopted. The congress adopted vigorous resolutions in favor of the upbuilding of the merchant marine and the steady improvement of American waterways and harbors.

NEBRASKA SILVER MEN.

Democrats, Populists and Republicans Unite on a Ticket.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 3.—The fusion bimetallic convention nominated Judge J. J. Sullivan for Supreme court judge. When the convention adjourned they had agreed on this ticket:

Supreme Court Judge—J. J. Sullivan of Columbus, Democrat.

University Regents—Evan Farrel of Buffalo, Populist; George F. Kenower of Cuming, Republican.

The conventions took recesses from hour to hour all night, and the delegates showed their fidelity to their political creed by sleeping in their chairs at the several convention halls in order to be ready to take advantage of any acton recommended by the committee.

Equal Power in Church Matters.

Springfield, Ohio, Sept. 3.—The sixth annual lay conference of the Cincinnati district was called to order Thursday. One of the most important questions now before the Methodist church—equal power in church management for the laity—was presented by Prof. C. L. Brumbaugh of Greenville. He said in sixty-seven of the smaller conferences the laity now have equal representation; why not the larger? The bishop should name all the ministers without interference from any church. There is an unrest now, and the conference needs the business knowledge of the laymen, and the church should avail itself of all the men in the laity.

Twenty Miles from Havana.

Key West, Fla., Sept. 3.—It is said that Quentin Banderas has attacked and entered Guirade Melena, twenty miles south of Havana, and taken all the supplies, including money, arms, ammunition, drugs, etc. Many Spanish troops have been sent after him. The Cuban forces, ambushed at Palos, in Havan province, attacked a guerrila force of thirty men. The Spaniards lost five killed and fourteen wounded. It is said the Spaniards at Santiago de Cuba have had a fierce fight with the insurgents, and that they have lost over 500 men. They were compelled to retreat.

To Withdraw the Constables.

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 3.—Gov. Ellerbe announced Thursday that he had given orders for withdrawing the state constabulary force from every village, town and city in the state. Only a few constables will be retained in the country districts where there are no local officials to enforce the dispensary law. This action removes the chief cause of friction in the enforcement of the state liquor law and will save the commonwealth $50,000 a year.

Iowa Christian Convention.

Oskaloosa, Iowa, Sept. 3.—The Iowa Christian convention, the state organization of the demonination, re-elected Gov. Drake president of the convention at its session. Resolutions were adopted declaring that the convention, in electing Gov. Drake, did so without either commendation or condemnation of his official acts in signing the bill passed by the last legslature legalizing the manufacture of liquor in Iowa.

Americans in Front Rank.

Montreal, Que., Sept. 3.—In two days more than 150 papers have been read by specialists at the different sectional meetings of the British Medical association. The discussions were almost without exception well sustained, and among the most valuable contributions were some of those offered by American practitioners.

Meet Next Year at Marion, Indiana.

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 3.—The Indiana conference of the African Methodist Episcopal church selected Marion as the place for holding the conference next year. In the course of an address, Bishop Arnett condemned the use of the designation "Afro-American."

Disabled Soldiers Go Home.

Havana, Sept. 3.—The last two steamers which have sailed for Spain carried 1,600 sick and disabled soldiers. Capt.-Gen. Weyler has received from Spain $2,000,000 in silver to be used in defraying the expenses of the war in Cuba. Gen. Weyler was last reported in the neighborhood of Guines.

DYEA AND SKAGUAY SEND WARNINGS

DISCOURAGING NEWS FOR PROSPECTIVE GOLD SEEKERS.

Divide Is Hard to Cross—Roads Strewn With Tents, Provisions, Discarded Baggage and Dead Horses—Crew of a United States Gunboat Desert the Ship.

Port Townsend, Wash., Sept. 3.—The steamer Farallon arrived last night, six days from Dyea and Skaguay. The officers of the steamer tell interesting stories of the condition of affairs at both landings. They say that at Dyea the people are slowly but surely crossing the divide and the road for ten miles up the canyon is strewn with tents, provisions, discarded baggage and dead horses. Less than 1,000 people are on the beach at Dyea, as all make efforts to get across the divide as soon as landed.

At Skaguay things present a different appearance. There are between 5,000 and 6,000 people at that place. Less than fifty men have succeeded in getting across White Pass and hundreds have given up trying to cross until spring. Rain has fallen continuously there for eight days and it is utterly impossible to cross. All kinds of business is flourishing. Many men are selling outfits for little or nothing, while others are buying everything offered for sale and using the same to stock general stores, which they are setting up on the beach. A saloonkeeper at Dyea is buying flour, emptying it in a heap in a tent and selling the empty sacks at 75 cents each. The Farallon officers deny that a man was killed at Skaguay for stealing, but say that in case of theft death would be the result.

Deserters Placed in Irons.

Santa Rosa, Cal., Sept. 3.—A letter has been received by Deputy Postmaster W. B. Griggs from his son Joseph, who is a member of the crew of the United States gunboat Concord. The letter is dated Juneau, Aug. 25, and gives details of the desertion of forty-five men from the Concord during its cruise in Alaskan waters. It says: "Some of the boys got the gold fever and ran away, but were brought back and are now in double irons. The ship lost forty-five good seamen, but if they are fools enough to go and starve this winter they are not fit for the ship."

May Have to Eat Horseflesh.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 3.—The demand for horses to be used in packing over the passes from Skaguay and Dyea is increasing, and during the present week several hundred head of horses will be shipped there. There are now at Skaguay about 4,000 horses, and it is difficult to see how this number can be fed during the winter. Many predict that both men and horses will be starving before spring and that the horses will be killed and eaten.

To the Klondike by Balloon.

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 3.—Aeronaut Leo Stevens has successfully tested his new generator for manufacturing gas for his balloon and says he will leave for the Klondike the latter part of this month. Stevens also declares he will go to Andre's rescue, provided his later experiments are successful.

Suspends Discriminating Duty.

Washington, Sept. 3.—Assistant Secretary Howell has instructed the collector at New York to suspend the collection of discriminating duties under section 22 of the new tariff law pending the decision of the attorney general. These instructions were issued when it was ascertained that the collector at New York had been collecting these discriminating duties on goods from Canada.

Gold Nuggets in Indiana.

Jeffersonville, Ind., Sept. 3.—Richard Mackison, an old prospector, Thursday exhibited at Henryville a gold nugget the sie of a walnut, which he said he found on "the Knobs." He would not reveal where he found it, proposing to search further. Several nuggets have recently been found, and some excitement is being created.

Michigan Gold Strike is Rich.

Sault Ste. Marié, Mich., Sept. 3.—The steamer Minnie Clark arrived down from the new gold fields at Lake Wawa, Michipicoten, Thursday and brings reports. Expert miners claim the new fields to be as rich as the Alaska Klondike.

Object to Woodford.

General Ruggles Is to Retire.

Washington, Sept. 3.—Brigadier-General Ruggles will retire Sept. 11, having reached the age limit. It is generally believed that General Breck, now acting adjutant general, will succeed General Ruggles.

Swedish Methodist Conference.

Kewanee, Ill., Sept. 3.—The presence of a large number of laymen as well as ministers marked Thursday's sessions of the Central Swedish Methodist conference. It was missionary day. Bishop S. M. Merrill, LL. D., presided at the love feast early in the morning.

PLAN IS REJECTED; PRICE IS TOO LOW

EXECUTIVE BOARD OF COAL MINERS SO VOTES.

Settlement Seems Far Off—Radical Points of Difference Develop at the Conference Between the Operators and Minirs—Another Meeting Being Held Today.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 3.—Failure of the efforts to secure a settlement by arbitration of the great coal strike is predicted. At a secret meeting of the national executive board of the United Mine Workers it was voted to reject the proposition of the operators. Three points of radical difference have developed during the negotiations and there seems to be no immediate prospect of agreement upon them. They are:

1. The rate to be paid in the Pittsburg district, the diggers there insisting upon a "69-cent rate or nothing."
2. The differential of 9 cents hitherto granted to the Ohio miners.
3. The price to be paid for machine mining.

Not the least of these stumbling blocks is the one last named, which loomed up as a hindrance to peace difficult to surmount. The operators offer to pay only one-half of the price on pick mining for machine mining, and the miners demand two-thirds.

Were this objection disposed of it is doubtful, however, whether the other differences could be settled. The miners will offer no counter proposition, and the operators' committee is not empowered to make a new one.

Another joint conference will be held today, and both operators and miners will endeavor to arrive at a more perfect understanding of just what each side demands. A member of the miners' board stated he thought some step might yet be taken toward a settlement, but he had no definite idea along what line it might be. Neither apparently has anyone else, but the advocates of arbitration have not abandoned hope.

WANT THE HIGH RATE.

Miners Not Ready to Return to Work for 64 Cents.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 3.—Judging from surface indications it seems reasonably certain that President Ratchford of the United Mine-Workers and his colleagues in office will reject the offer of the operators to return to work at the 64-cent rate pending arbitration. Great influence has been brought to bear upon the strike leaders from this district to induce them to assume such an attitude. The sentiment among the miners here is so intense for "a 69-cents-or-nothing" settlement that all the local labor leaders now in the city have advised strongly for a continuation of the fight along the present lines and to the bitter end. The miners believe they have victory well within their grasp, and, having a firm belief in the justice of their cause, they will not submit to anything that savors of temporizing or partial retreat from the original stand.

More Injunctions Issued.

Fairmont, W. Va., Sept. 3.—Judge J. M. Hagans of the Marion County Circuit court Thursday granted an injunction on the application of the Worthington Coal and Coke company against J. W. Rea, James Woods and seventy-three others named and an unlimited number of persons unnamed, prohibiting them from marching and holding meetings near the property of the company. The list enjoined includes the Rev. W. H. Wiley of the methodist church, who has been holding Sunday services and semi-weekly prayer meetings in the strikers' camps.

Serious Trouble Threatened.

Findlay, O., Sept. 3.—Word was received here last night that the Salem Wire-Nail Mill company would run in a couple of carloads of non-union men to take the places of the men who have been on a strike for two weeks. It is supposed the new men, if they arrive, will be run directly into the mills on the cars. The strikers are rendered desperate by this news and are arming themselves to prevent the new men from getting into the mill. If the attempt is made it is certain to result in a riot.

Men Returning to Work.

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 3.—The miners' strike is ended so far as the Peoria and Canton districts are concerned. The men voted in a mass meeting at Mapleton Wednesday to return to work at the rate of 45 cents a ton, run of mine, and 60 cents a ton for screened coal, and as the majority of the operators of the district are willing to pay the prices the greater number of the strikers returned to work today. It is expected that all will be at work by the end of the week. There are close to 1,000 miners in the districts affected.

Rend Says the End Is in Sight.

Pittsburg, Sept. 3.—Col. William P. Rend of Chicago, whose mines are on the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis railroad, is jubilant over the prospects of a settlement of the strike. No matter action is taken at the Columbus, he thinks a convention of Pittsburg district miners will be held soon and the strikers will vote to return to work.

GOES AGAINST LUETGERT.

Former Employe of the Alleged Wife Murderer Gives Damaging Testimony.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—Frank Odorofosky, who was once Luetgert's "smoker," Thursday added another strong link to the chain of evidence against the defendant.

Odorofosky identified caustic potash as the stuff he put into the vat at Luetgert's orders. He stood firmly by his testimony about discovering greenish stuff in and about the vat after the alleged murder.

The defense forced him to admit that his wife had received money from the police.

The sensational story of A. W. C. Grotty, claiming to establish an alibi for the missing woman in New York on May 7, was brought out at the trial of the case yesterday afternoon. Grotty's story, in brief, is as follows: On May 7 he met Mrs. Luetgert on Broadway, New York. He was accompanied by two men named Rudolph Schintky and Richard Shulthuf. He and the missing woman had been acquainted when young people in Chicago, and he had been an admirer of Mrs. Luetgert. He was positive that he was not mistaken, and claimed that he knew the supposed victim of the Luetgert murder was in Germany.

Captain Schuettler went to New York to investigate the case. He found that Grotty has been engaged in the business of furnishing alibis at other trials. The officer also discovered that the supposed Mrs. Luetgert that Grotty introduced to his friends was a former employe of his, who worked for him in a cloak store in Troy, N. Y.

The rings found in the vat at the factory were introduced in evidence in the trial near the close of the day.

The excitement ran high before the court opened. Vast numbers of persons showed the intense interest in the trial by a regular fight to push into the court room. Many were injured in the struggle. More women than men endeavor to secure admission to the trial.

Indiana Universalists.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 3.—All the Universalist churches in the state were represented at Thursday's convention to discuss the proposed changes in the confession of faith. The contention is over article 3, which says: "We believe that holiness and true happiness are inseparably connected, and that believers ought to maintain order and practice good works, for these things are good and profitable unto men."

The convention elected the following officers: President, the Rev. T. S. Guthrie of Indianapolis; vice-president, T. E. Ballard, Crawfordsville; secretary, Miss Flora B. Brown, Dublin; trustees, M. A. Bridges, Fincastle; G. W. Stanley, Indianapolis, and J. W. Hoffman, Muncie.

Drove Workmen from the Colliery.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 3.—Work at Van Wickle colliery was resumed today. The strikers at the Audenried district were surprised at this action and 500 men drove the workmen from the Lehigh Valley's Yorktown colliery, Dodson's Beaver Brook, Star Monarch and Carson washeries and drew the fires. Mob law prevails on the south side. Two thousand men marched to Silver Brook. They stopped every colliery in that district and then attacked Superintendent Jones' house at Yorktown and smashed every door in it.

Claiming the Credit.

"It is really remarkable," said Mr. Meekton, "to note how many eminently successful men were regarded as stupid when they were in school."

"Yes," replied his wife, in a significant tone, "and the most interesting point is that most of them did not begin to acquire any reputation for being smart until after they were married."—

GARY FOR POSTAL SAVINGS.

Congress May Be Asked by the Postmaster-General to Take Action.

Washington, Sept. 3.—Postmaster-General Gary has received from the postmaster-general of Canada a full explanation of the postal savings bank system in vogue there. He also has received letters in regard to the system from prominent men all over the country, and farmers especially, as banking facilities for the latter are extremely limited. The postmaster-general is gathering all the information possible regarding postal savings banks, and it is believed in his annual report will call attention to the best features of the systems of the various countries having such banks, and will recommend that congress authorize the establishment of postal savings banks in the United States.

He says that while he ardently desires to have the canal completed as soon as possible, Japan has never offered to take any hand in the matter.

RACES WERE LIVELY BUT CASH SCARCE

NOT MUCH MONEY IN THE BICYCLE MEET.

Good Time Was Made In Spite Of the Wind—Beloit and Rockford Riders Proved to Be Too Speedy For the Local Wheelmen—Track Notes.

Barring the attendance the bicycle races were a success. The track was in good shape and there was lively racing. The managers of the entertainment come out a little better than even. The results in the different events follow:

One Mile Novice—F. B. Smith, 1st; S. G. Eastman, Rockford, 2d; Will Wright, LaGrange, 3d. Time, 2:32¾. First prize, Searchlight lamp, Sutherland & Sons; second, fountain pen, Parker Pen Co.; third, box cigars, C. D. Stevens.

The Party Was a Success.

Twenty eight couples attended the cycling party which proved one of the most delightful social affairs of the season. The boys paid expenses which was all that they desired.

Chester Brewer and S. L. Sheldon had charge of the floor at the cycling party.

That boy from Afton was the whole thing in yesterday's races.

Arthur Bittle, of Beloit, was numbered among the fast ones.

Milton and Milton Junction riders were there in full force.

Fully 300 bicycles were to be seen on the grounds.

The weather, the track and the races were all there. But where were the spectators?

Assistant Clerk Edwin Carpenter had his hands full.

Charles I. Sloan as an announcer, is a decided success.

Three watchmen were employed to keep out the fence climbers.

James Root says he took enough dust to start a truck garden.

The Janesville girls were out in full force.

Sprague says that his company was too swift.

Refreshments sold well.

Chilcott of Beloit, is what the boys called "a swift one."

Take warning, you speculators. Don't give a race meet in this town.

Visitors Were Too Fast.

A long story cut short—Rockford and Beloit boys were a little too fast company for the local wheelers.

Loren Morse and Harry Kirkland had the program privilege.

Frank Sanner and S. L. Sheldon acted as ticked sellers.

W. M. Pfennig says they didn't give him half a show in his mile relay race.

Ex-Sheriff J. L. Bear had the grand stand in charge, while Albert Bemis took in the cash at the ticket window.

Fully 200 boys stole their way into the grounds yesterday.

Fred Crouse and John Hill had charge of the gates.

Referee VanWart is All Right.

Frank VanWart of Beloit, is one of the best all around referees that ever presided over a local meet.

Fully fifty were in attendance from Beloit.

Rockford boys say they haven't any reason to complain. They got their share of the prizes.

Roy Sanborn says it was his wheel that did it.

Officers John Brown and Wallace Cochrane were on the grounds, to keep order.

Beloit citizens turn out a larger crowd once a week at bicycle races than were seen at yesterday's meet in this city.

It is doubtful if a finer field of riders ever wheeled the local track than were in the five mile race yesterday.

Its a good thing that Secretary George M. McKey called that fair off. People seem to have gotten out of the habit of going to the fair grounds.

Superintendent Cummings says the street cars did a fare business.

The attendance was about 800.

A Delicate Distinction.

GARDNER WITH NEW SONGS

Karl, the Peddler Pleases Janesville Play Goers---An Attractive Part.

Charles A. Gardner delighted his Janesville friends in "Karl, the Peddler" last evening. The piece was excellently framed to show the comedian's strength and in the course of the evening Gardner was heard in the some of his most popular songs and in some recent additions to his repertoire: "Captain Karl's March," "Oh He Hit Me on the Nose," "The Wreck of the Jule Plante," in French Canadian dialect, "The German Milk Girl," grotesque song and dance and "Apple Blossoms."

Gardner's versatility has never been shown as well as in "Karl, the Peddler" and his support this year is very satisfactory.

H. F. NOTT, Dealer in Pianos and Organs, Janesville, Wis.:

Dear Sir:—We purchased a Braumuller Piano about five years ago and can truthfully say that I take pleasure in stating that it has given the most perfect satisfaction in our home. Its capacity for standing in tune is certainly wonderful and the tone today is as good if not better than the day we bought it, and would recommend it to any one wanting a first-class Piano.

Respectfully Yours,

The Forbidden Fruit.

The following is an actual incident of Biblical investigation that occurred in Indianapolis a few days ago, affirms the Sentinel. Two young ones were discussing the old legend of the fall of Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden:

"What kind of forbidden fruit do you suppose it was that Eve ate?" asked the boy.

The little girl studied some time, and then replied: "I 'spect it was Adam's apple."

Well Looked After.

"Brooks," said Rivers, "you ought to do something for that cold of yours. A neglected cold sometimes leads to serious consequences."

"This cold of mine isn't neglected." crossly answered Brooks. "Five or six hundred of my friends are looking after it."—Chicago Tribune.

A Great Disadvantage.

"I suppose," remarked the sarcastic housewife, "that in the course of time ice will be worth as much as diamonds."

"Well," replied the iceman, reflectively, "diamonds are pretty good in their way. But you can't rely on their melting down so as to keep up a steady demand."—Washington Star.

Uncle Allen's Opinion.

"As to the claim that ice cream will cure the hiccoughs," said Uncle Allen Sparks, "my experience with several young nieces convinces me that the only thing ice cream will cure is the craving for ice cream, and it only does that temporarily."—Chicago Tribune.

The Wise Physician.

Watts—Is Dr. Pilze as good a physician as Dr. Bowless.

Potts—I don't know, but I know Bowless doesn't think so. He always turns his practice over to Pilze when he is called out of town for any length of time.—Indianapolis Journal.

A Characteristic Cry.

First Summer Girl—You should have slept with me last night, Tess. The man in the next room kept hollering "Cash! Cash!" all night long in his sleep.

Second Summer Girl—Wonder which he is—dry goods clerk or foreign nobleman?—Puck.

Useless Gifts.

"Father was a sea captain, you know, and after his death a friend gave mother two parrots."

"Do they swear?"

"Not the least bit."

"How lonesome your mother must be in her old age."—Judge.

Preferred Another.

Revivalist (in eastern Kentucky)—Oh, young man, I come this night to lead you to grace.

Young Kaintuck—Not to her, preacher. Lead me to her sister Sal.—N. Y. Journal.

Moments are useless if trifled away; and they are dangerously wasted if consumed by delay in cases where One Minute Cough Cure would bring immediate relief. C. D. Stevens.

TILLMAN'S FUMING.

Governor Tillman, of South Carolina, is abroad again with his pitchfork, stating that he does not see any real signs of prosperity.

In a speech in New York state the other day he likens the wave of business and farm activity which is now sweeping over the country, to a hot-air balloon ascension, and predicts that it will collapse with a mighty thud. The wheat boom, he asserts, is merely speculative, and for the aid of Mark Hanna; that when wheat goes up it is at the expense of the east who buy bread. If Mr. Bryan were to be voted for today he would be elected, he says, by an overwhelming vote.

In the first place, if Mr. Bryan were to be voted for today he would stand no more show of being elected than the man in the moon; but will the governor state just where he stands? Last year he hurled denunciations at the gold power because the farmer was getting a low price for his wheat; now he says the high price of wheat will cause suffering among the people who buy bread. But Mr. Tillman's remarks are not worthy of serious consideration. Any man who makes such a statement as that the present great wheat movement, affecting the whole world to the extent of hundreds of millions of dollars, is "merely speculative" and designed to aid Mark Hanna, is either a fool or a knave. The senator is not thought generally to be a fool, and it is hardly polite to call a United States senator a knave. Still we wish to give the senator the benefit of the doubt, and will leave the verdict to the people.

HOW THEY HIT FARMERS.

The free traders took their last shot at the farmers in June; they hustled in everything available on which the new tariff law increased the rates of duty. The following shows the value of the more important farm products imported in June, 1897, compared with June, 1896:

If it does our democratic friends any good to ascribe the better times to "republican luck," let them do so. The republicans are in control and the better times are here. The average voter will see the wisdom of keeping the good times by keeping the republicans in power, regardless of the wild talk of democratic editors and speakers.

If existing European treaties prove strong enough to stand the wear and tear of time, John Bull will find himself occupying a position endangering his very existence whenever there is war between any of the great powers over there.

The periodical stench from the convict camps of Georgia is once more offending respectable people, and the offense is not lessened by the statement that there is no law for thd existence of these blots on the character of the state.

Alabama coal operators are confident that under the Dingley tariff they will be able to take a goodly portion of the Mexican coal trade away from the English, who have heretofore monopolized it. Another argument for protection.

Suggestive figures are those of the Department of Agriculture showing that the wheat growers of the United States will get $500,000,000 more for this year's crop than they received for last year's.

The hard luck Klondike stories are coming in earlier than they were expected, but those now being printed will seem very mild when the sufferings of the coming long winter shall be told.

LINE TO ROCKFORD AN ASSURED FACT

RIGHT OF WAY BOUGHT THROUGH TO BELOIT.

General Agent Lee and Engineer Best of the Interurban Electric Railway Are On the Ground and Say That Work Is to Be Crowded Through

The interurban electric railway to connect Janesville, Beloit, Rockton and Rockford, is said to be an assured fact.

Projectors of the line promise that before the end of next summer and possibly by next spring, these cities will be connected by swiftly moving trolley cars which will enable the residents of these cities and the intervening country to communicate with each other in a short time at a low expense.

A. P. Lee, general agent, and E. J. Best, civil engineer, for the Interstate Railway company, arrived in Beloit yesterday, and expect to make Beloit their headquarters for the present. They said emphatically that it was a sure thing that the road would be built. Surveying will be commenced as soon as the right of way is secured.

Right of Way Assured.

The right of way has been secured from Rockford to Beloit and all that remains is to complete it to Janesville. They said they had met with little difficulty in getting the farmers to give a right of way through their land. The greatest delay expected is in getting the franchises from the cities which it is proposed to connect. This usually takes considerable red tape.

Mr. Best said he never saw a finer country for a road than that between Beloit and Rockford. It is level almost the entire distance and very little grading will have to be done. The road will follow the east bank of the Rock river all the way.

Will Eventually Go to Madison.

Eventually, Mr. Best said, the line would be extended to Madison. For the present, however, it would go from Janesville to Rockford. At the latter city connection will be made with the street railway. There will be but one line of poles, the bracket system of wiring being used. The cars will be of the latest improved Pullman pattern, forty feet in length. They will be entirely for passengers, or combination passenger and baggage cars. The seats will be arranged like those of railroad coaches, transversely with an isle between. Each car will be propelled by four motors, and their guaranteed speed is fifty miles an hour.

Will Take Passengers Anywhere.

The cars will take passengers not only at stations in the towns but anywhere along the route, so that farmers can make the trip to town with ease and dispatch. They will be allowed to take baggage with them, as this is the purpose of the baggage car. If a demand is found for it a freight car will be attached to the passenger. The company will also have a quick and safe mail and express service. In this way it will be possible to connect with the Adams Express company office in Rockford.

A Car Every Hour.

A car will go through Beloit every hour for Rockford. Business trips to the Illinois city will be quick and easy. The fare will be no more than fifty cents the round trip, and the rates to the other towns will be correspondingly low, so that the cost will be only half or less than half the railroad fare.

This is an Old Company.

This road will not be the first built by the Interstate Railway company. It has constructed six lines already this year and the roads it controls are numerous in the east connecting small towns. It has several lines in Ohio. Mr. Best said he had orders not to divulge the names of the stockholders, but they are all wealthy men. Mr. Best himself has been in the business for six years and holds stock in an Ohio company. He was with Tom L. Johnson, of Ohio, for some time.

If everything goes smoothly and the city councils are not slow to grant franchises, the road will be surveyed and constructed this winter and be ready for operation in March.

To Run Up State Street.

It is Mr. Best's desire to have the road in Beloit run up State street to Public avenue, turn thence east to Pleasant and go out Pleasant. In this way it could give a good service to the employes of Fairbanks, Morse & Co. Special cars will be run morning and evening to accommodate them.

One of the first effects of this road would be to make the property along the route desirable for suburban residences. There are many beautiful places along the river which with this easy communication would make delightful summer homes, and there is no doubt that residences would be constructed at once.

JUMPED FROM THE BUGGY

Narrow Escape of Two Ladies on South Main Street Today.

A seemingly serious accident was narrowly averted on South Main street this morning, when an electric car came within a few feet of colliding with a buggy, occupied by two ladies.

One of the ladies jumped from the buggy, but no damage was done.

NO OFFICIAL ACTION ON RESIGNATION

ALL SOULS TRUSTEES HAVE NOT MET.

As Yet the Resignation of Rev. Mr. Southworth Has Not Been Formally Laid Before Them—Janesville Pastor Has Been Camping In the Mountains.

The official board of All Souls church has not yet taken action on Rev. Mr. Southworth's resignation. The official notice has not yet been received, Mr. Southworth's communication with the board having been confined to personal letters discussing the situation. The call for a board meeting is expected in a day or two.

The notification of the pastor's resignation was a surprise to many in the church, and frequent inquiries were made to Gazette reporters as to the source of the paper's information.

Members of the society are not disposed to admit that Mr. Southworth's position was made uncomfortable on account of his views on the silver question. While comparatively few in the church sided with him in the matter there was no disposition to develop the spirit of antagonism.

He is Climbing Mountains.

Rev. Mr. Southworth has just returned to Greeley, Colorado after an outing of two weeks in Estes park and the mountains adjacent. He was accompanied by Prof. Beardsley, of the Colorado state normal and E. S. Pinney, of Greeley.

They ascended Long's peak, Macos peak and visited the canons east and west of Long's. Mr. Southworth says the scenery in the canons baffles description for grandeur and wildness. This vicinity is overrun with flowers of all kinds and hues. So varied and beautiful are they that a florist would consider it a perfect paradise. The Gazette has received from Mr. Southworth a graphic description of the ascent of Long's peak and will publish it later.

A Plucky Girl Mountaineer.

A young lady between eighteen and nineteen years of age, named Miss Bertha A. Ness, a resident of Minnesota, was in the park during the stay of Mr. Southworth and his friends, and hearing that three gentlemen would ascend Long's Peak, walked twenty miles the day before to Lamb's, arriving there that evening, and the next morning was up and ready for the ascent at 5 o'clock. She stood the climbing as well as any of the men, scorning all assistance, and when they returned to Lamb's that evening, she felt vigorous enough to walk around and inspect the cattle on the premises, and after supper, engaged in a game of ball with the gentlemen.

Society Item.

A reporter on a paper wrote the following account of his rival's marriage: "The bride was radiant in a beautiful lavender silk dress, with orange wreath, and six-button number nine kid gloves, slightly burst in the thumb. The groom was as straight as a black cloth suit constructed by the best tailor could make him, as red in the face as was consistent with a pair of boots two sizes too small, and a number thirteen collar encircling his manly sixteen-and-a-half inch neck. Fortunately, before the ceremony was over, the restraining button flew off and saved him from strangulation.—Tit-Bits.

Doings of Our Neighbors Tersely Told —Bicycle Races At the Walworth County Fair Will Be For Cash—Bridge Wrecked By a Thresher.

The Janesville district conference of the Methodist church closed its thirty-ninth session in Delavan this week. The district comprises portions of Rock, Walworth, Jefferson, Dane and Waukesha counties, with 30 pastoral charges and 53 churches, with aggregate membership of 3 638. The annual reports presented by the different pastors show that $2,954 has already been contributed to benevolences, and $3,375 expended in church improvements this year. The conference passed on the character of eight local elders and nine local preachers; nine exhorters had their licenses renewed and a license to preach was granted P. F. Stair, of Evansville.

A committee on home missions was appointed, consisting of W. G. Weeks W. E. Clough, James Irish, Rev. W. P. Leek and Rev. F. B Sherwin.

Resolutions were adopted by the conference expressing pleasure with the efficient manner in which Presiding Elder F. A. Pease has conducted the affairs of the district and with the important part he had on making the district Epworth League convention at Janesville the success it was.

ATOM AND YARRUM.

Mab, but to Robert W. Fitzsimmons, Jr., who is 18 months old. Atom is 34¾ inches high, and he will never be taller. He is dark brown, black and white—the horsemen say piebald. He is the son of Howland L. and of Stella, and he was born two years ago on a farm on Long Island, near Jamaica. He has dainty little hoofs which are of the color of old ivory, delicately shaped legs and the oddest little whine, affectionate and pathetic, that one ever heard. He is apparently an aristocrat, which may be explained by the fact that his parents have won premiums at the Madison Square Garden shows for five successive years.

Atom will find in Fitzsimmons' yard Yarrum, who is only a dog, taller than he and a bear in comparison with the weight of which his will be insignificant indeed.—New York Journal.

So Hot!

"Oh, it is so hot!" said Betty. "It is so hot! Mammy, I don't know what I shall do, it is so hot!"

Now, Betty was not doing anything. She was sitting by the window, with her head on the sill, and the shade of the big horse chestnut tree made a little coolness, so mammy went on with her mending and said nothing except that it was hot and she was sorry for Betty.

Presently Betty saw a hand organ man with a monkey coming. She raised her head, and he stopped under the window and began to play.

"Oh, mammy," cried Betty, "the monkey is dancing! May I go out and dance too? Oh, he is such a dear little monkey! Now he is climbing up the fence and walking along the top. Oh, mammy, may I climb up and walk along the fence? Please, mammy, say I may." And Betty jumped up and down and danced little steps like the monkey's and tried to look like him, but fortunately did not succeed.

"I thought it was so hot," said mammy. "Do you think dancing will make you cooler, Betty?"

"I don't think it is so hot now," said Betty. "Not quite so hot, mammy. You see I didn't know what to do then. It's always hotter when you don't know what to do, but now I do know."—Laura E. Richards in Youth's Companion.

The First Steamboat Whistle.

Early in May, 1844, the steamer Rochester departed from Buffalo, bound for Chicago. The engineer was a mechanical genius named McGee, and he had constructed a steam whistle from plans which he had seen in a scientific paper. On the way up the lakes he blew it at every stop, much to the astonishment and terror of the inhabitants. Just before reaching Mackinac the Rochester, after a lively race, passed the steamer General Porter, Captain C. L. Gager. Engineer McGee celebrated the victory by blowing his whistle derisively and noisily. When both boats reached the wharves, Captain Gager rushed up in a rage, shaking his fist and daring McGee to come down and face him.

"What are you squawking that thing at me for?" he roared.

And if it had not been for mutual friends steamboat whistling on the lakes might have been introduced with a lively battle of fisticuffs.—Chicago Record.

Five Little Brothers.

Five little brothers set out together
To journey the livelong day.
In a curious carriage all made of leather
They hurried away, away—
One big brother and three quite small
And one wee fellow, no size at all.

The carriage was dark and none too roomy,
And they could not move about.
The five little brothers grew very gloomy,
And the wee one began to pout
Till the biggest one whispered: "What do ye say?
Let's leave the carriage and run away!"

So out they scampered, the five together,
And off and away they sped.
When somebody found that carriage of leather,
Oh, my, how she shook her head!
'Twas her little boy's shoe, as every one knows,
And the five little brothers were five little toes.
—Independent.

Not the Ones Meant.

In a western school a little fellow was called up to read for the county superintendent, who was paying the school a visit. The boy was a good reader in all respects but one. He gave absolutely no heed to punctuation marks. When he had finished, the superintendent asked:

"Willie, where are your pauses?"

Willie dropped his book and held up both hands.

"Here they are, sir," he said.—Philadelphia Times.

Your Eyes.

Has it ever occurred to you to reckon how far your eyes travel in reading? The distance will not startle you, perhaps, for 1,000,000 letters in ordinary type would measure hardly more than a mile, placed side by side. In a lifetime, however, the average reader wends his way through 2,000 miles of print. The average novel of 300 pages contains one mile of reading—that is, the eyes travel 1,760 yards in reading the book through.—New Moon.

Greensburg (Ind.) Bank Fails.

Greensburg, Ind., Sept. 3.—The First National bank, the oldest banking institution in the city, closed its doors Thursday. The closing of the institution was the result of the financial embarrassment of E. R. Forsythe, the cashier, who resigned Wednesday and announces that he will make an assignment. He says his assets are $160,000 and his liabilities $105,000. W. M. Hamilton, president of the bank, says the institution will pay dollar for dollar.

Had to Close the Bank.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 3.—State Auditor Daily has directed the attorney-general to apply for a receiver for the state bank at Ambia, whose cashier, Frederick McConnell, fled with all the cash. The officers have not been able to get any trace of the absconding cashier. It is now believed that he took $20,000 with him.

Mount Vernon, Ill., Sept. 3.—The annual meeting of the South Salem Baptist association met here Thursday for a four days' session. The Rev. W. W. Hay was re-elected moderator, and O. P. Nesmith was chosen secretary for the ensuing year. About thirty churches have sent delegates.

A Tried Remedy for Biliousness

Those who suffer from disorder or inaction of the liver will never get the upper hand of the unruly organ so long as they use such irrational remedies as blue pill, calomel and podophyllin. But from the tried and popular medicine, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, they may expect relief with a certainty of obtaining it. The influence of the Bitters upon the great biliary gland is direct, powerful and speedily felt. The relief afforded is not spasmodic, but complete and permanent. The shallowness of the skin, furred appearance of the tongue, indigestion, costiveness, headache, nausea, pains through the right side and shoulder, in fact every accompaniment of the obstinate complaint are entirely and promptly removed by a course of this inestimable medicine, in behalf of which testimony is constantly emanating from every quarter, and from all classes of society.

In Use.

A JOYFUL MOTHER OF CHILDREN.

Mrs. Pinkham Declares that in the Light of Modern Science no Woman Need Despair.

There are many curable causes for sterility in women. One of the most common is general debility, accompanied by a peculiar condition of the blood.

Care and tonic treatment of the female organs relieve more cases of supposed incurable barrenness than any other known method. This is why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has effected so many cures; its tonic properties are directed especially to the nerves which supply the uterine system. Among other causes for sterility or barrenness are displacements of the womb. These displacements are caused by lack of strength in the ligaments supporting the womb and the ovaries; restore these, and the difficulty ceases. Here, again, the Vegetable Compound works wonders. See Mrs. Lytle's letter, which follows in this column. Go to the root of the matter, restore the strength of the nerves and the tone of the parts, and nature will do the rest. Nature has no better ally than this Compound, made of her own healing and restoring herbs.

Write freely and fully to Mrs. Pinkham. Her address is Lynn, Mass. She will tell you, free of charge, the cause of your trouble and what course to take. Believe me, under right conditions, you have a fair chance to become the joyful mother of children. The woman whose letter is here published certainly thinks so:

"I am more than proud of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and cannot find words to express the good it has done me. I was troubled very badly with the leucorrhœa and severe womb pains. From the time I was married, in 1882, until last year, I was under the doctor's care. We had no children. I have had nearly every doctor in Jersey City, and have been to Belvin Hospital, but all to no avail. I saw Mrs. Pinkham's advertisement in the paper, and have used five bottles of her medicine. It has done more for me than all the doctors I ever had. It has stopped my pains and has brought me a fine little girl. I have been well ever since my baby was born. I heartily recommend Mrs. Pinkham's medicine to all women suffering from sterility."—Mrs. Lucy Lytle, 255 Henderson St., Jersey City. N. J.

Woman's World.

If a woman is asked, especially if it is with an accent of disapprobation, why she follows the fashion in the matter of clothing, she will answer because she "wants to look like other people." If she is asked why she gives so much attention and thought to the selection and trimming of her gowns, instead of buying and wearing whatever it is the easiest to come by, she will say because she "doesn't want to look like everybody else." To the masculine mind this is a beautiful example of woman's illogical reasoning, but the two answers are really not at all incompatible. A woman wants to look like other people in respect of not being shabby or out of date or unpleasantly conspicuous by reason of the oddity of her attire, but she also wants her costume to be stamped with her own individuality, so that it will belong obviously to her and to no one else. Any one who has ever been in a large clothing establishment where many lay figures are standing about dressed in more or less elaborate gowns must have noticed what an air of sameness these gowns have, even when they are of different qualities and materials. This is because they were made for no one individual, but, as it were, for woman in the abstract. When woman in the concrete purchases one of these costumes, the first thing she does is to take something off here, add something there, change something somewhere else and generally adapt the gown to her own personality, rendering it different from the others, even those of the same material and pattern.

The illustration given today shows a costume of fuchsia colored faille. The skirt is ornamented near the foot by three wide bands of galloon, embroidered with spangles and gold, which stop at either side of the tablier. The lower edge of the skirt has a frill of gold taffeta on the inside. The blouse bodice has a very short, full basque and closes under the arm. It is trimmed with embroidered galloon, simulating a sort of bolero, and has epaulets of the same trimming. The close sleeves are slightly bouffant at the top. The collar and belt are of embroidered galloon. A frill of lace finishes the neck and sleeves. The hat is composed of fuchsia faille, like the gown, and is trimmed with a bow of the same material fastened by a gold buckle. JUDIC CHOLLET.

TOILET HINTS.

White Gauze Fronts and Cravats—How to Wash Them.

Silk stockings should be washed in cold bran water in order to keep them soft and insure the permanence of delicate colors.

Silk gauze and mousseline de soie are rather expensive luxuries, not on account of their original cost, which is not great, but because they are so delicate and have to be renewed so frequently. A great deal of white gauze has been and will be worn for vests, full fronts and cravats, and it may not be generally known that this material can be washed. Of course the washing has to be done very carefully and cannot be intrusted to an ordinary laundress.

NEW COIFFURE

The goods should be squeezed in soapy water, and the water should be changed several times until the last water remains clean. The material must then be folded so that it is of three or four thicknesses and pulled gently crosswise and lengthwise. It can be pressed with a hot iron while still damp, but this is not desirable, because the iron is apt to push the threads aside and spoil the evenness of the weaving. The best way is to continue to pull it softly until it is perfectly dry, and as it dries quickly this will not take long. Washing gauze gives it a surface like very fine crape, but that is no especial disadvantage.

The millinery mode is for hats with rather high crowns of various shapes. These styles will be seen in the new felts. The brim is usually lifted at the side and the space filled in with flowers.

Women who like to wear chamois gloves, either white or colored, in the winter would better lay in a supply of them now, for the shops do not, as a rule, keep them in stock during the winter, although they are well suited for cold weather use.

An illustration is given of a new coiffure. The front hair is curled, while the back hair is waved and drawn together at the crown of the head, where it is arranged in a knot with an erect loop. The ends of the hair form little curls below the knot. JULIC CHOLLET.

VARIOUS NOTES.

New Styles In Collars—Flannel Shirt Waists and Bathrobes.

The latest linen accompaniments for tailor made costumes are collars and cuffs trimmed with insertion and edged with a narrow linen plaiting. Plain linen collars and cuffs are also worn, as well as those composed of little square tabs.

Belts are both wide and narrow, plain and wrinkled. They are fastened with buckles or are tied with long, floating ends at the side or back. Belts made of piece silk, with long sash ends, rounded and bordered with ruches or plaitings, are much liked and are very new in Paris. The fashion of white accessories predominating, these sashes are often of white silk, edged with ruches of white gauze or plaitings of white silk or mousseline de soie. White sashes are worn with gowns of light color, and even with gray ones, when the other trimmings are white.

When Turkish toweling is to be purchased by the yard, it is surprising that a woman ever buys a ready made bathrobe. The latter is always so clumsy in shape. A bath wrap made after the pattern of an Oxford gown or of a Japanese kimono is really pretty, but the baggy, unformed one of conventional style is an affliction to the eye. Pure white toweling, of course, washes the best, but there are striped and colored sorts also to be had.

Flannel shirt waists are slowly but surely gaining favor. They are made in every respect like the cambric and percale ones and are washable.

A sketch is given of a riding habit. It is of black cloth, with a skirt fitted to fall over the saddle smoothly and just cover the foot. The skirt is lined with black taffeta. The tight bodice has a plain basque, rounded in front, and is finished with lapels and a collar like a man's coat, which are faced with black grosgrain The bodice is fastened with small black silk buttons. The sleeves are close, and plain white linen cuffs and a linen standing collar are worn. The scarf is of black satin. A black silk beaver hat and white gloves complete the costume. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Marriage.

It is high time that the mothers and daughters of the Anglo-Saxon race should unite in a league in defense of marriage, banding themselves together in a solemn covenant to fight to the death the pernicious influences that are corrupting our literature and through our literature the minds and conduct of our generation. Regard for the order of society, regard for the children of the fireside, regard for the common weal above personal interest and the mere selfish gratification of the moment, call in clarion tones to all lovers of their kind to rally in defense of the abused and attacked institution of marriage.—Zion's Herald.

"My boy came home from school one day with his hand badly lacerated and bleeding, and suffering great pain," says Mrs. E. J. Schall, with Meyer Bros.' Drug Co., St. Louis, Mo. "I dressed the wound, and applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely. All pain ceased, and in a remarkably short time it healed without leaving a scar. For wounds, sprains swellings and rheumatism I know of no medicine or prescription equal to it. I consider it a household necessity. The 25 and 50c sizes for sale at C. D. Stevens, pharmacy.

During the balance of the season we will retail all Fruit at wholesale prices. This decision on our part will mean a great saving to purchasers and is an announcement that is perfectly reliable. We intend making a leader of our Fruit to draw trade. We don't expect to make any money on it, and, as we said before, simply handle it as a trade bringer. Quality, of course, is the one thing to be most considered. Our Fruits have always been the best and all Fruit carried by us in the future will be up to standard all around. Prices quoted will be only on the best quality. All our Fruit is bought through a broker on South Water Street, Chicago, who has done our buying for the past thirteen years. We receive large shipments every day. He is a good Fruit buyer as our goods have always proven. Our prices will be considerably lower on the same class of goods than you can buy elsewhere

The addressing, folding, inclosing, sealing and stamping of five thousand circulars, with postage, will cost at least $65, whether the circular is good or bad. Notwithstanding this fixed charge, some strive to save a dollar or two on the cost of printing, although the goods advertised are to be judged by the character of the printing, just as a house is judged by the character of its salesmen. Woman Toward Woman.

The new woman might well emulate the virtues in which men excel. The kindliness of intercourse found among men does not characterize the attitude of woman toward woman. A man will make himself comfortable on a long journey, and at its conclusion will have made an acquaintance and perhaps a friend of his neighbor. But for a woman to speak to a fellow traveler of her own sex without the conventional introduction is to invite a snub. Should she inform her neighbor at the dry goods counter that she has found a certain new lining for her frock most satisfactory, the information would very likely be received with a haughty stare, plainly declaring the suspicion that the informer gets a percentage on sales. There is small opportunity under such circumstances to love your neighbor as yourself.

The experiment has but to be tried to demonstrate to the graciously inclined woman that there is little room for her who would, even in a small way, wish her sister woman good luck upon her way. Steamers in passing each other display a white flutter of handkerchiefs from the human freight aboard, but the wayfaring woman is considered a fool if she inclines to that sort of graciousness on land. And yet a woman is not necessarily either disreputable or designing simply because she speaks to another woman without introduction. Graciousness, however, need never suggest familiarity. A helpful word may be spoken with dignity and yet with kindly interest, and she who resents it is to be pitied for her lack of understanding. A gracious "Thank you," even if the well meant information is not needed, proclaims the gentlewoman. —Delineator.

Woman's Fitness to Govern.

Ask not whether woman is fit to participate in the government, for that was answered 1,000 years ago. The answer is preserved in the archives of every house in every empire and republic since the world began. The world is governed by man, and man is governed by woman. In Rome woman abolished the crown and established the republic. She abolished the decemvirate and restored the consular government. She wrought the constitutional change which gave the plebeian the right to hold the highest office in the world's government. When the master mind of the world's literature sought to solve the problem which had baffled the wisest man, he called a woman to the bench, and in the character of Portia we have a second Daniel come to judgment. Unfit to govern? The contradiction comes from hosts of women who stand today in the front rank of the professions, who have acquired property by their individual efforts, who have waged a thousand battles and won a thousand victories in the cause of charity, morality and humanity.—James Francis Burke.
